

I do not understand your decision to allow Sinclair Broadcasting to force their stations to air a documentary that is obviously biased against one candidate just days before the election. This is a perfect example of the dangers of the media consolidation you have fostered over the past several years.

It is obvious that the current FCC has no interest in ensuring the public airwaves are not misused by corporations more interested in their own self interest than the public good. Your inaction is shameful.